Administration

All these overworked people are caught here hardly working at all. Mrs. Helen Jones, secretary to our principal, Mr. Everett Williams, is loaded down with suggestions about the day's work, and Mr. Williams is lightly outlining things to be done after the other things are done. Mrs. Helen Stewart, secretary to Mr. Joe Barnes, our superintendent, looks more than disgruntled as Mr. Barnes reads from his document that all those lists she prepared should have been done in quadruplicate. Our counselor, Mr. Hager, (new this year and well beloved by all of us for his fine work and real comprehension of our problems) looks as if he's thinking, "Really, I'd better get out the ink blot tests."

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS 1960-61

President, Dr. Frank Luksa
Mr. Billie Hoffman
Mr. Jay Wolf
Dr. Judson Custer
Dr. R. W. Gamble
Mr. Kearney Wolf
Mr. Gus Steenken

The annual staff speaks for the student body: We do appreciate the time these unselfish men have invested in us, and we truly value the labors of the administration.

G.H.S. Merry-Go-Round

Every year is like a merry-go-round; we start off in tune and in time, but the tempo increases rapidly. Faster and faster we go until we are whirling away like mad in the midst of all our activities. There are ups and downs. There are contests and losses. Some grasp the golden ring for special recognition. Those of us who stayed for the whole ride realize that when the music stops it is time for part of us to get off and go about other business. Others of us will pay the fare another time, and will be waiting for the music to start again.

- Editor

Faculty members are awarded honors by members of annual staff.

Read Editor's note.

The following comments by the annual staff are not to be mistaken for hateful remarks written because of dislike felt toward any teacher. We know that our fine instructors will take the little digs or comments with good humor, for we make them in a spirit of fun. Laugh with us!

EDITOR

Donna Bishop

MRS. FRANCES NELL ARMSTRONG:

B. A. Southwestern University; English 8th Grade; Reading and Literature, 7th Grade. Mrs. Armstrong receives the award for having the most piercing look - she's the best eye-roller.

MRS. LILLA BARNES:

B. S. Southwestern University; General Science, Biology; Co-Sponsor of Student Council, Blue Wings; on faculty committee for National Honor Society, assists with Science Club. Mrs. Barnes is the champion butcher of 1960-61 and will receive our "Pointers on Carving" in recognition thereof.

MISS BARBARA BARNETT:

B. S. University of Texas; Librarian. Miss Barnett has been voted the best silverfish exterminator and dust chaser on the faculty.

MR. FRED BELL:

B. S. University of Houston; Health and Physical Education, University of Houston; Co-Sponsor of Student Council; 7th Grade Science and 7th Grade Football. Mr. Bell is named "Romeo" of 1960-61 - at least a lot of the girls think so.

MR. BERNARD BIRKELBACH:

B. A. and Master of Education, Southwestern University; Head Football Coach, Algebra I. Coach Birk wins the title of "Kindest Mean Man" in school. He has the worst bark and the best bite.

MISS EULA JOYCE BURLESON:

B. A. Mary Hardin Baylor; M. A. Southwestern University; History and Civics. Miss Burleson is cited for being the best News Commentator of the 60's.

MR. JAMES CAIRNES:

B. S. Texas A & M; Vocational Agriculture; Sponsor of F. F. A.; on faculty committee of National Honor Society. Mr. Cairnes receives recognition for being outstanding in his special field of being a "cuss-detector."

MRS. FAYE HICKS:

B. A. Sam Houston State; Social Studies 7th Grade. Mrs. Hicks is given the title "Miss Antenna of 1961." She is also given a citation for her excellence as a hall patrol.

MRS. LORRAINE HINDELANG:

B. S. Trinity University; English, American History, Sponsor of National Honor Society. Mrs. Hindelang is awarded the curl from the forehead of the little girl, who, when she was good, was very, very good, but - - -

Faculty

MR. ANDREW JACKSON:

B.S. University of Houston; M. E. North Texas State College; Sponsor of Stage Band. Mr. Jackson receives the "Temperament Award." In spite of his sixty-some problems, he's the happiest man on the faculty.

MRS. LILLIAN JONES:

B.A. Sam Houston College, M. A. University of Texas; 7th Grade Social Studies; 8th Grade Spanish. Mrs. Jones wins the title "Sweater Girl of the Year."

MR. ROBERT KIRSCHNER:

M. A. in Education, Southwest Texas State Teachers' College; Science, 8th Grade, Arithmetic, 7th Grade, Assistant Basketball Coach, Head Baseball Coach. Mr. Kirschner receives honorable mention for being very adept at conserving his energy.

MISS GENEVIEVE MASON:

B.S. Mary Hardin Baylor; Homemaking; F.H.A. Co-Sponsor. Miss Mason is awarded the "noble" prize for her essay "How to Be Gracious Amid the Trials of Home Building."

MR. EDDY LANKFORD:

B.S. Southwest State Teachers' College, Head Track Coach, Assistant Football Coach, and Junior High Coach for Basketball; P.E. Mr. Lankford is cited for being the best tumbler of the year.

MRS. LYNN LANKFORD:

B.S. Southwest State Teachers' College; Homemaking; Co-Sponsor of the F.H.A. Mrs. Lankford receives recognition as the person best equipped with baby sitters.

MRS. ROSAMOND McCLAIN:

Ph.B. University of Chicago; Junior High Math and Annual Sponsor. Mrs. McClain is to receive a framed certificate for being the self-appointed "Dear Abby" of Georgetown.

MRS. RAYE McCOY:

B.A. Centenary College; Spanish, Sponsor of Pan American Forum. "Raye wants a cracker!" Award for having the most economical lunch of anyone on the faculty.

MRS. ONEITA MEDLEY:

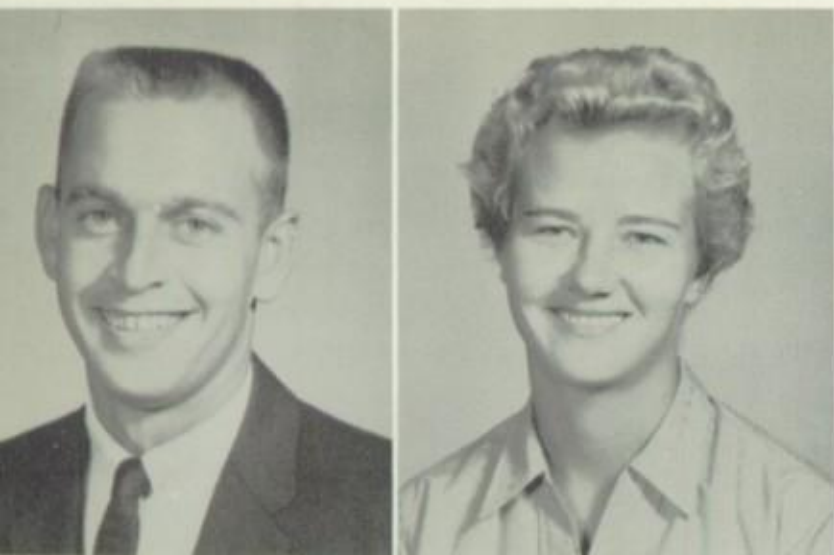

B.A. Hardin-Simmons, M. A. University of Texas; Algebra I, General Math, Chemistry, Physics, General Science; Sponsor of Science Club; on faculty committee for National Honor Society. Mrs. Medley is tied with Mrs. Springer for award see below.

MRS. FRANCES SPRINGER:

B.A. Baker University; English, Speech, Sponsor of Soc'n' Buskin, directs all plays. Mrs. Springer and Mrs. Medley are tied for the honor of being the most ardent grandmother on the faculty. Both deserve a bangle for a Grandmother bracelet.

Faculty

MR. DALE MENGERS:

Texas A & I. B.S. in Agronomy. 7th Grade Science, and History. For award, read Mrs. Mengers.

MRS. GAIL MENGERS:

B.S. Mary Hardin Baylor; Physical Education; Co-Sponsor Blue Wings, Tennis Club. After due consideration, the staff, having observed the Mengers on hall duty, and at other times, believe that they deserve the "Togetherness Award."

MRS. ANITA RYAN:

B.B. A. Baylor University. Typing, Shorthand, Bookkeeping. Assists Annual Staff with Advertising. In recognition of Mrs. Ryan's being the most "up-standing" woman on the faculty, and because she needs it in her teaching, the annual staff nominate her to receive a silver-plated yard stick.

MRS. ELIZABETH SANDERS:

B. A. Southwestern University. Language Arts, 7th Grade. Mrs. Sanders takes the prize for having walked the most laps through the streets of Georgetown.

MR. FRITZ STELZER:

B.S. University of Texas; Head Basketball Coach, "B" Team Football, Junior Business, World History. Sorry, no award for Stelzer. He lost out to coach Bell. His consolation prize will be a silver loving cup - if he can collect it.

MISS AGNES WILCOX:

B. A. Southwestern University: English I, II. Paper Staff Sponsor. Miss Wilcox receives recognition as being the most self-sacrificing woman on the faculty. She generously contributed her car for a school bonfire.

MR. JOE WYNNE:

B.S. in Education Southwestern University. 1st Year Algebra, 2nd Year Algebra, Plane Geometry, Trig and Solid. Would a donkey trade his well known firmness for an elephant's flexibility? No sireee! Well, Mr. Wynne wouldn't trade either. He is to receive a blue ribbon for being one of the donkey's best supporters, and for being a "settled-down" teacher.

MRS. BETTY S. VON MASZEWSKI:

B. A. University of Texas: 8th Grade Spanish and Spanish I and II. Also Sponsors Pan American Student Forum. Mrs. Von Maszewski is recognized as having the best college-preparatory classes, and as being the newest talent on the faculty, having replaced Mrs. McCoy at mid-term.

Mr. Cairnes is all set to play "Post-Office." This post office box, constructed in the Ag shop, mainly by Mr. Cairnes, will help take out the bottle-neck from faculty mail delivery.

7th graders enjoying the Slave Sale Assembly.

Receiving instruction in the techniques of cheerleading from senior cheerleader Donna Bishop are the 8th grade girls who are ardent supporters of their team.

Drinking in each word of information from another "A" team cheerleader Linda Scarbrough, are fifteen 7th grade lasses, all devoted football fans.

These 8TH GRADE FOOTBALL BOYS present a good appearance, even when judged impartially. It is plain that we have some good material here, and that within a few years there will be some Stars from among this group. Coach Kirschner may well be proud of his work.

The beautiful V formation below is composed of heroic 7TH GRADE FOOTBALL BOYS, who have to admit they get a lot of fun out of the training which coach Bell gave them in his attempt to build them into a working organization.

This spelling Bee didn't get on the literary pages, but all teachers devoutly concur in the hope that more such activity will take place and that the 7th graders will outshine their predecessors in spelling ability.

Slave Sale assembly.

Bill Elliott having lens trouble. 17

Real go-getters, these 8th grade officers. Bill Elliott, center, is President; Judith Hodges is Vice-President; John Clifford is Secretary-Treasurer, and Howard Wheeler is Reporter. Just LOOK at all that money they've collected.

When the 8th graders gave Mrs. Raye McCoy a surprise going away party, the happy smiles hid some sad thoughts.

"Who's stupid?" Coach Kirschner got this response to his question.

8th grade basketball team beat Round Rock two times out of three; lost to Del Valle and beat Lampassas.

In assembly president Bill Elliott presented an appreciation gift. All students were sorry to see her leave to take a counselling course in the University of Texas, mainly because Mrs. McCoy is a good and well liked teacher, but partly because they hate to think of anyone's going to go to school any more than he has to!

7th and 8th Grade Bands

These 8th graders are just brim full of musical talent, and they love to practice. Ask director, Mr. Jackson!

If the 7th grade drummers keep working at it, they may be able to carry the big drums some day. As for the 8th grade group - why they'll be in the high school band by the time they look at themselves in this picture.

Warning to band directors - this picture of hard working boys and of innocent little faces turned up in pleased attention is hardly typical of 7th and 8th grade band students. Still, there's lots of hope for them.

You can tell by the money in their hands that these freshmen girls are ganging up on some poor senior victim at the Slave Sale. They just love "bossing" someone.

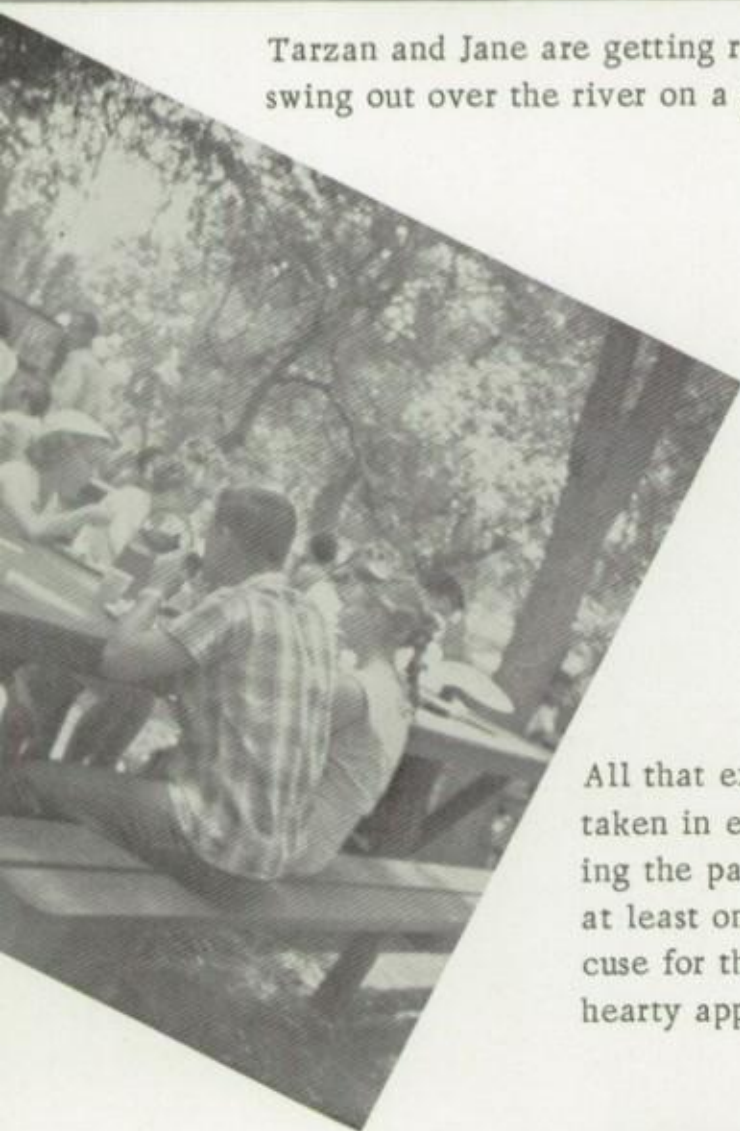

Some unkind people think freshmen are perhaps a bit loud-mouthed. This picture might be evidence?

Freshman Activities

Tarzan and Jane are getting ready to swing out over the river on a grape vine.

These three are boating, which can be real fun if you don't get sea sick. Gene looks at least mildly disturbed.

All that exercise taken in exploring the park was at least one excuse for these hearty appetites.

Eating is some people's delight. There are plenty of delighted freshmen here.

This is a shot of Spanish I's farewell party for Mrs. McCoy. That explains why some of them are eating again.

Yea! No work, just Play! Sandra and Connie rejoice at this prospect.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS - STANDING: Chuck Forbes, Vice-President; Vivian Ickes, Treasurer. SITTING: Carolyn Kolinek, Secretary; Nikki Sandburg, President; Rebecca Kauffman, Reporter.

Girls carefully consider taking Homemaking I. It's fun to criticize each other's dress ideas.

Checking the bulletin board in front of Mr. William's office sometimes provides instruction, sometimes entertainment. Freshmen need a little of both.

Marsha Smith, who played a very difficult part very well in the freshman one act play, here lets Les (Chump) practice dancing on her feet.

Why the breathless suspense? Sophomores Barbara Hindelang and Kandy Kauffman are hoping that their bid will win them a slave at the Student Council Slave Sale.

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS: Jimmy Holcomb, Treasurer; Fred Homeyer, Vice-President; Brenda Langford, Reporter; Jeanne Behrens, Secretary; Don Morris, President.

The "benched" students above, the coke drinkers, the card sharks and the dancers below are all valiant sophomores who dared to come to the sophomore party.

Sophomores

"Now let's see - I know there were three points!"

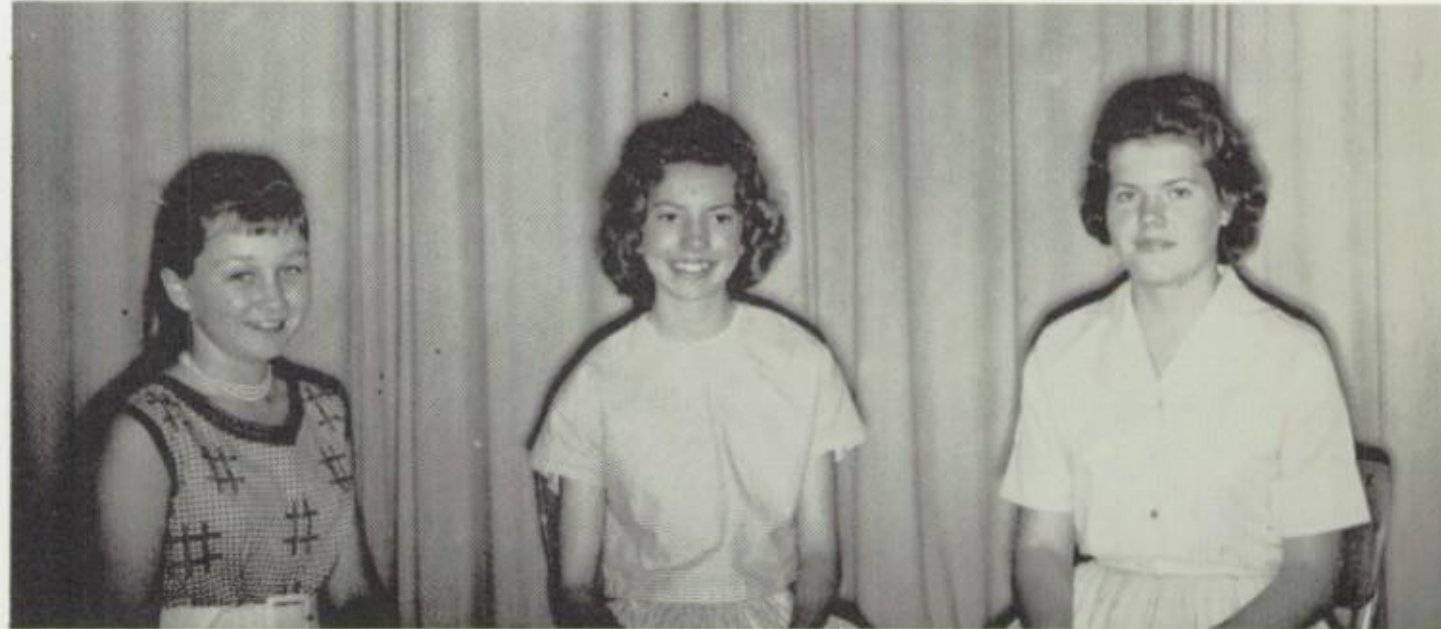

At left, sophomore blow-out for Mrs. McCoy, who got to eat her cake and have it too the day of her departure. All her classes brought cake and drinks as a surprise. By last period she was still being astonished.

Last Days of School

Comparing medals received for having the highest average in a subject are Ronald Lehman, Spanish, and John Clifford, language arts. Below are the surprised and happy girl winners from Junior High, Connie Foster, social studies; Carolyn Ickes, science; Linda Sue Hugland, arithmetic.

The drinking fountain scene below gives only a glimpse of the long and thirsty line of always thirsty junior high pupils, who seem to get thirstier and thirstier as spring progresses.

"Let's see, where can I pin this one?"

Junior high votes probably swing the student council elections, and these walking bill boards, Richard, Alan, Douglas and Greg, may have influenced votes.

All this jollity comes from the knowledge that there is just one more day of exams!

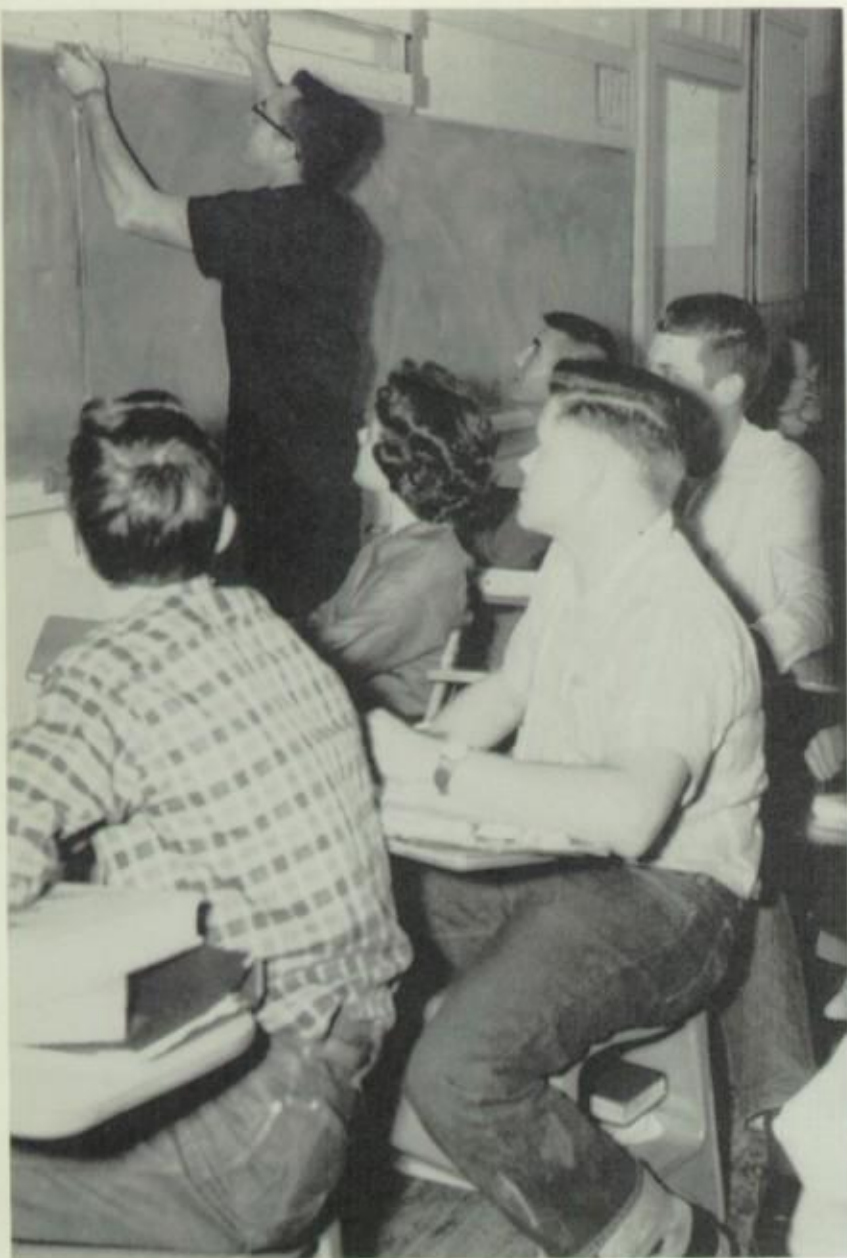

Student council president Mercer overwhelmed by "vote for" banners.

Academic

MATHEMATICS; demonstration in Trigonometry;
explanation on use of slide rule.

Plane Geometry, either at the board or at your seat is really nothing to cry about.

Algebra II Class.

School days might seem like a merry-go-round of fun and frolic to a casual observer, but our main business is learning. We present typical scenes from sample classes.

Would you believe that dissecting a lung could make these biology students so happy?

Nothing wonderful has been discovered yet by these chemists, not even any new sorts of odors, but they're willing to try. Above, Robert Bost seems definitely suspicious of the brew Gay Giddings is concocting.

Science

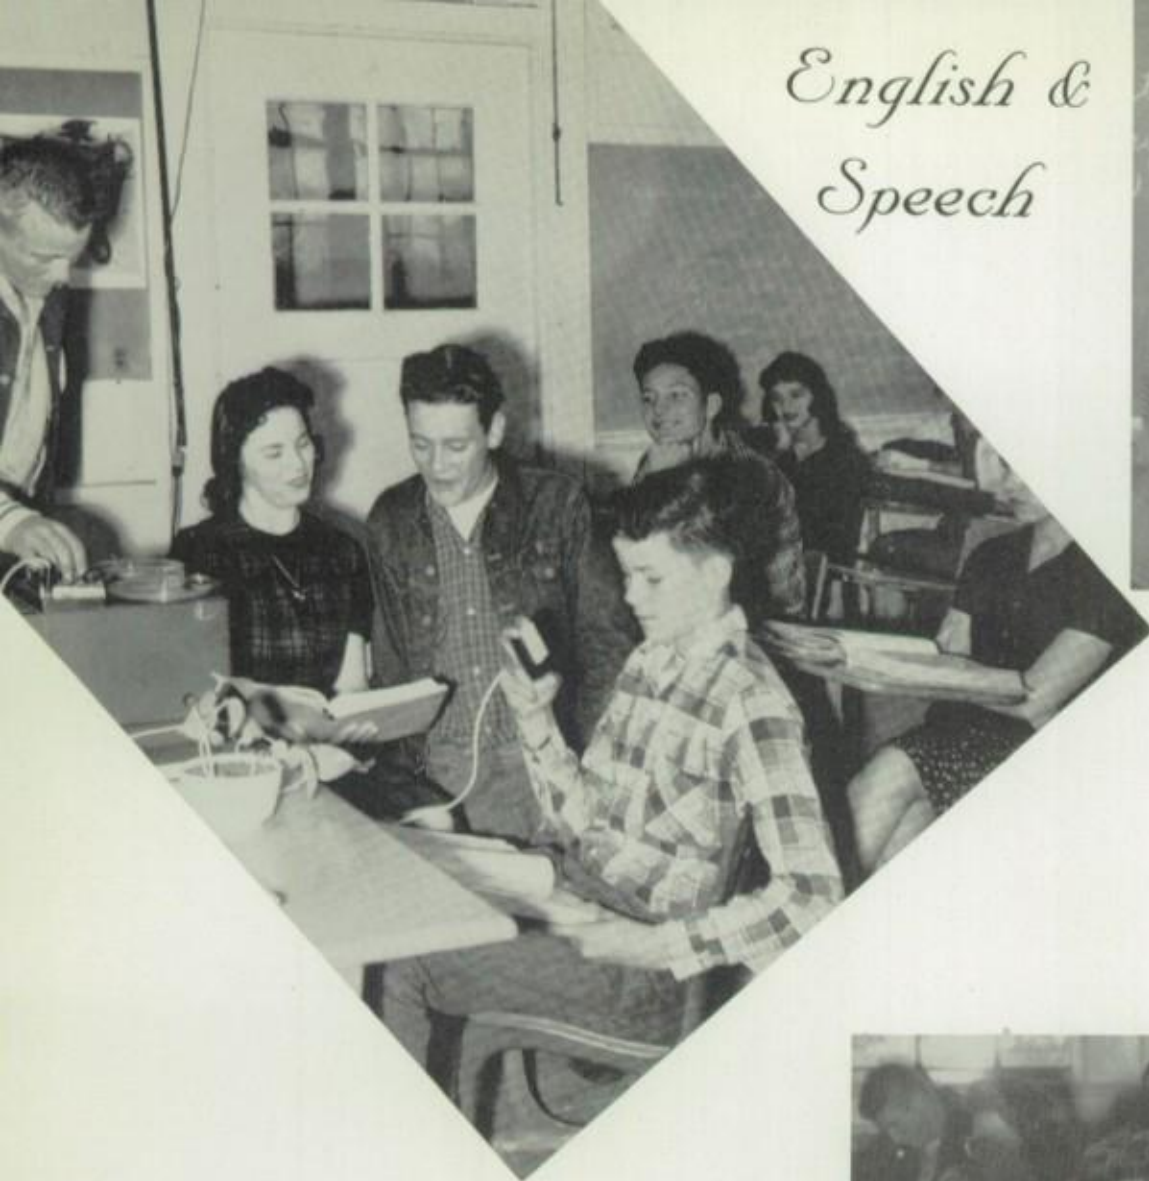

Alan Wicke points out some of the fine points in his model contributed to the physics class.

A scientist has to start somewhere. These freshmen are starting with a lecture in a general science class.

English & Speech

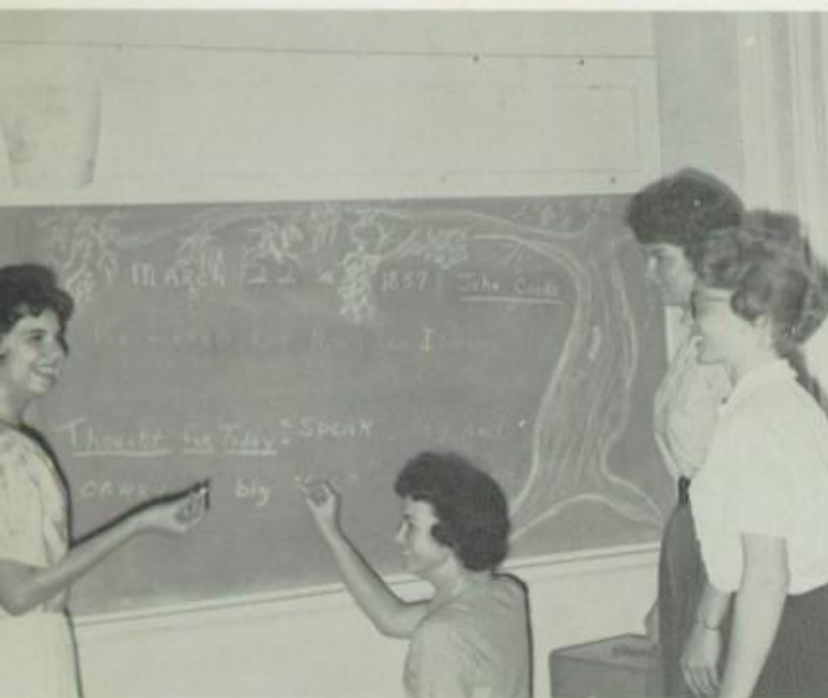

Freshmen take their turn at using our school recorder. After reading some dialogue, they will play it back and listen to the criticism on their voices and diction.

In sophomore English comes the great experience of reading "Julius Caesar." Do these false friends look faintly pleased as they drive in their daggers?

Not all of English is acting and recording. Here an English III class is, in the main, absorbed in the study for the day. Oh, there's an eye or two gazing around, but that's to be expected.

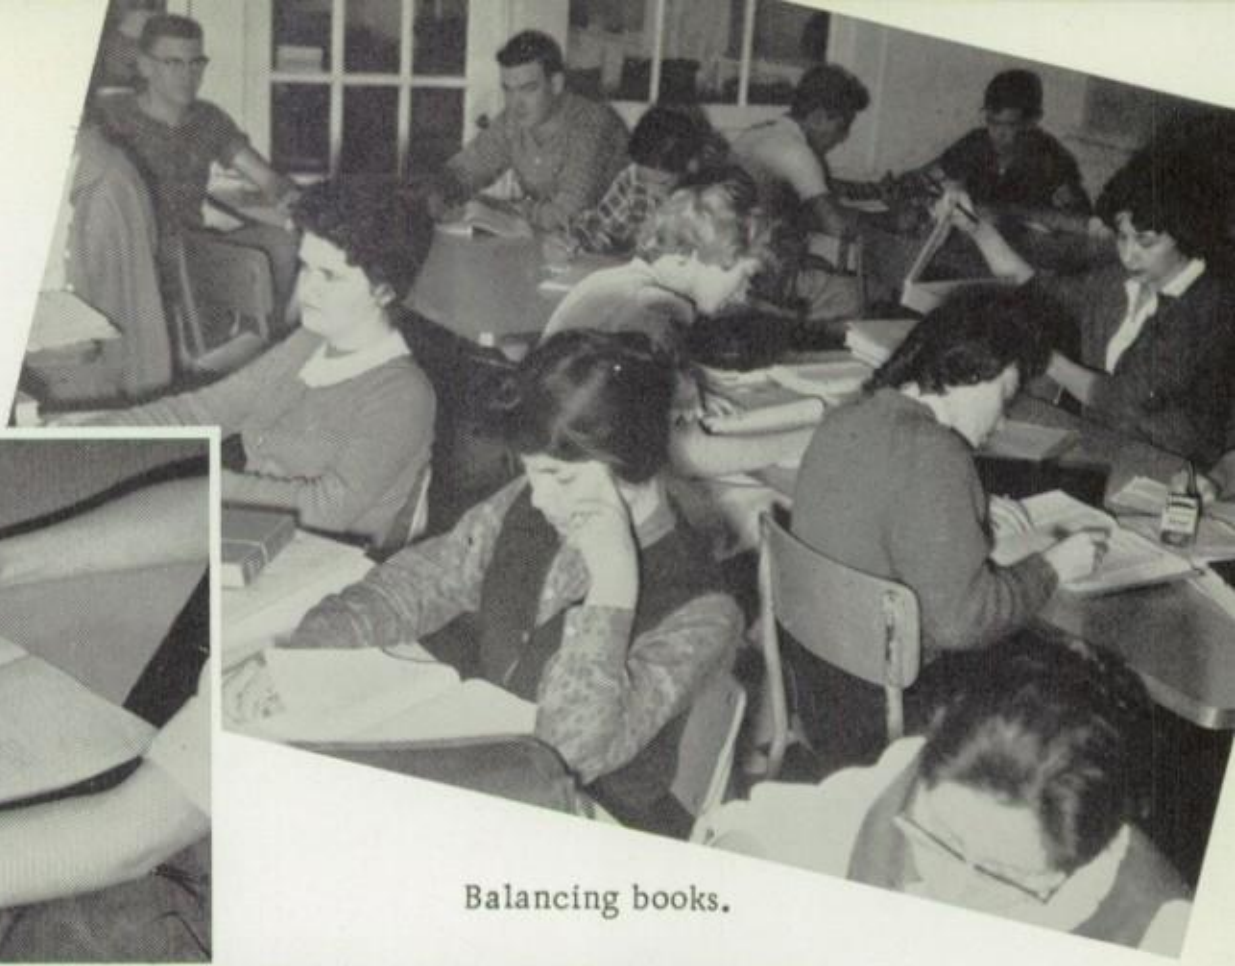

English IV students liven up a dull corner of the classroom with a colored chalk calendar. They seem to have developed lively imaginations too.

Speech is a popular class. Part of its skills taught consists of conveying impressions through pantomime. Do you get this?

Commercial Subjects

A neat and accurate ledger - this is the aim of the members of the bookkeeping class.

Balancing books.

More than one person in the shorthand class is wondering, "Now what did I mean by this?"

You really have to concentrate to learn to type. Above are the hands that behaved well - they won first place in the District typing contest.

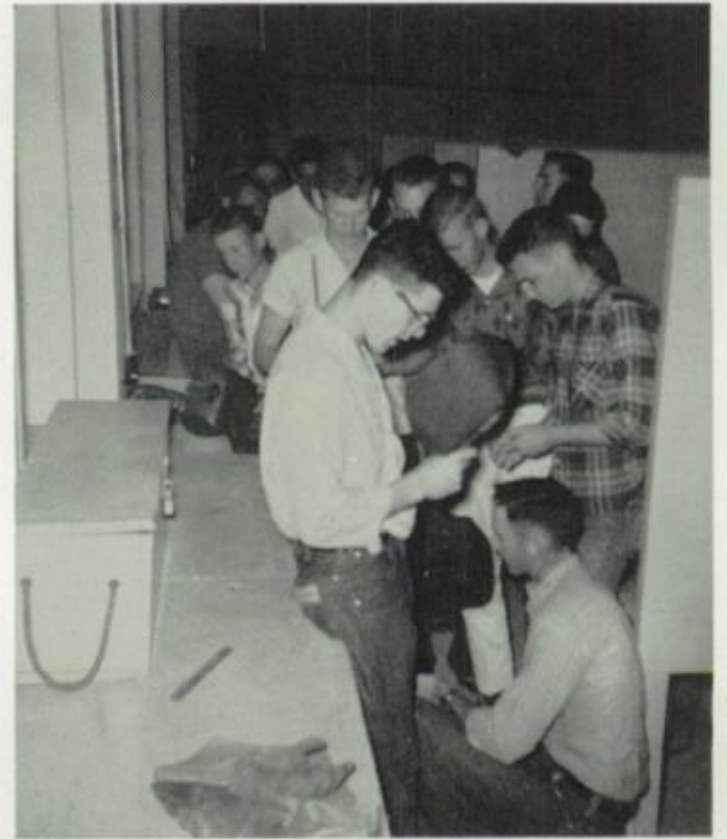

Agriculture

A popular subject with a good percentage of our boys, "ag" provides many different kinds of skills and a practical and scientific kind of knowledge.

Senior boys learn to do welding.

Boys in ag III prepare for their lesson in welding.

Freshmen boys take a "talk" break before further review for a six week's test.

Homemaking

The homemaking department is represented by sewing, homemaking I.

Cooking, home-making III.

And Furniture re-finishing Home-making IV, or General homemaking.

History and Civics

Happy Texas history students do research in the library in the classroom. They are preparing for their term themes. The Texas history course comes as a half year course after the fall term of civics.

Some people do and some people don't settle down to the class work grind. Examine expressions and pick out those really interested in the report being given in American history.

World history is more enjoyable when it is taught with a blend of current events. New maps this year help locate the places in the news - however old or new.

Pupils laboring over a verb test.

Spanish Girls' P.E.

Spanish, the foreign language course offered in our school, is both fun and brain busting. These two scenes are typical.

This is more fun. Here the students work in groups, and while Richard Oliveri says his Spanish poem, the others listen to see how well he does - or to find some error to criticize.

Girls' sports doesn't make as much splash as boys' sports, but the P.E. classes are busy all year. Their activities range from volleyball in the fall to tumbling in the spring. In between are basketball, tennis, softball, badminton, and speedball.

*Georgetown
Wins

Interscholastic
League Competition.*

Here are the literary winners with their place in District and other places won.

Judy Wolf, 2nd in poetry reading; Sandra Pennington, 2nd in declamation; Mary Ruth Queen, and at right, Linda Faught, 3rd in spelling; Gary Montgomery, 2nd in poetry reading; Brian Wicke, 3rd in slide rule, and 2nd in number sense.

Sterling Eanes won all the way through State - made the highest score of all the competitors.

Teacher and coach, Mrs. Medley, admires the plaque he won.

Mike Weir, 1st in Senior boys' declamation.

Agnes Miller, 1st in Senior girls' declamation..

Debate partners, Arlene Jacobs and Glenda Love, John Atkin and Nicky Teele indulge in one of their favorite pastimes - debating.

Bob Giddings, 1st in District and Region, 4th in State, looks at State winner plaques and lays plans for next year.

Ann Barton, 1st in Typing, 3rd in Region.

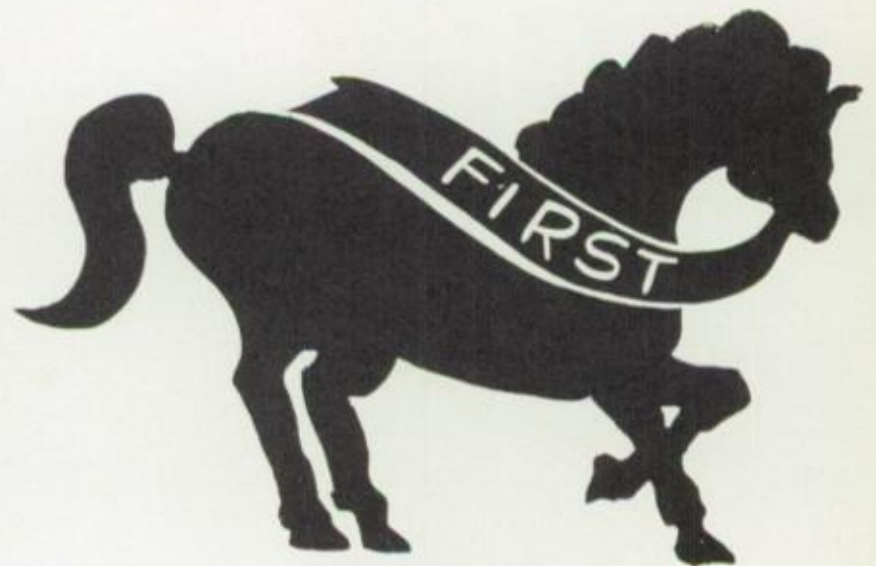

Honoring Scholars

Each year at awards assembly the person or persons having the highest average in each different department is awarded a medal in recognition of high achievement.

Winning girls in high school are: Marsha Smith, Spanish; Karen Hausenfluke, social studies; Ann Barton and Patricia Robbins, homemaking; Estella Noack, commercial subjects; Donna Bishop, speech and drama; Janie Edwards and Arlene Jacob, English.

Winning boys: Sterling Eanes, mathematics; Dennis Chapman, agriculture; Brian Wicke, science; Ronnie Kasperick, Spanish; Randy Mercer, speech and drama. (Did not report for picture, Nikki Sandberg, English.)

How did these students happen to make the highest averages? Look below, where a suggested program is outlined.

Yawn! No matter how tired, keep going!

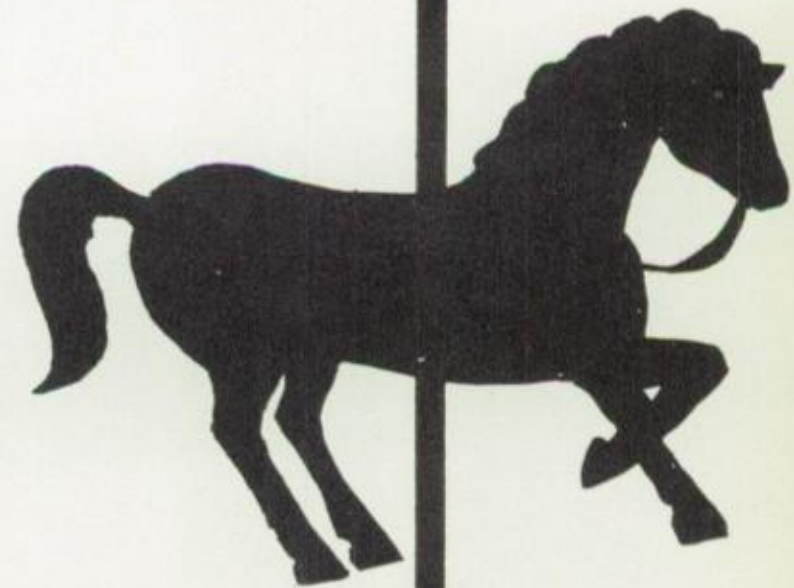

Scream! No matter how frantic you get, keep digging!

Sleep! When exhausted, sleep enough to recover - then get going again.

Student Council

As Georgetown was president of the CTSCA, our Student Council presided at the meeting in Waco and was featured in a discussion group.

The Student Council Representatives are elected from their fourth period class. They take notes at the meetings and report the news back to their classes so everyone will have a better understanding of the workings of the Student Council.

Laura Weir
Third Vice-President

This is the BEGINNING of the STUDENT COUNCIL SLAVE SALE, held for the purpose of making money for the Council, but with a secondary purpose of teaching seniors humility.

These senior cow-girls practice some lively bangs, hoping they may later protect themselves against their implacable owners. Those who bid for them will feel justified in demanding much service, for those top bids ran high!

Kay must sing for her lunch, as well as carry staggering loads of books for the junior high students. Besides singing, she then has to buy her own lunch!

THE MIDDLE OF THE DAY. Simon Legree Peaslee dictates in what manner his hungry slave, Donna, shall humble herself.

Take your hats off, get your work clothes on - be prepared for anything.

This is THE END.

Back-to-School Night

Each year the Student Council sponsors a Back-to-School Night so the parents or any other interested parties may see how our school works.

As Robert, Donna, and Linda look over old annuals, Donna exclaims, "Eh! Can this really be Gene Longino?"

Looking over the Soc'n'Buskin scrap book is Mrs. Wallace Evans as Linda points out a picture of State-winner "The Wonder Hat" to Eileen Adams.

Annual Business manager, Tombs, and Editor, Bishop, try to turn on the charm as innocent passers-by approach the annual booth.

Looks as if it's time out for a bull-session for Mr. Barnes, Superintendent, Mr. Hager, Counselor, and Mr. Conoley, County Superintendent of Schools.

Here the anatomy of the biology class hero, "Hugh-Man," is being explained by Mrs. Barnes to Sterling Eanes and Larry Cole.

CTSCA and Assemblies

The Student Council sponsored an Annual Signing Party last year to which everyone came and wrote their "Good Lucks" and signed their pictures in each other's annuals.

Donna "Magna Carter" vociferously asks, "Where are my prizes?", as Richard, "Raol Fedwards" tries to control her. (From that famous senior assembly).

Randy Mercer presides at the lectern at the CTSCA meeting in Waco.

Randy Mercer accepts the new fifty star flag the DAR presented to GHS.

These Georgetown students take time out for a coke and to meet new friends at the meeting in Waco.

Janie Edwards presents the flag because she is the D. A. R. Citizen of the Year from Georgetown High School.

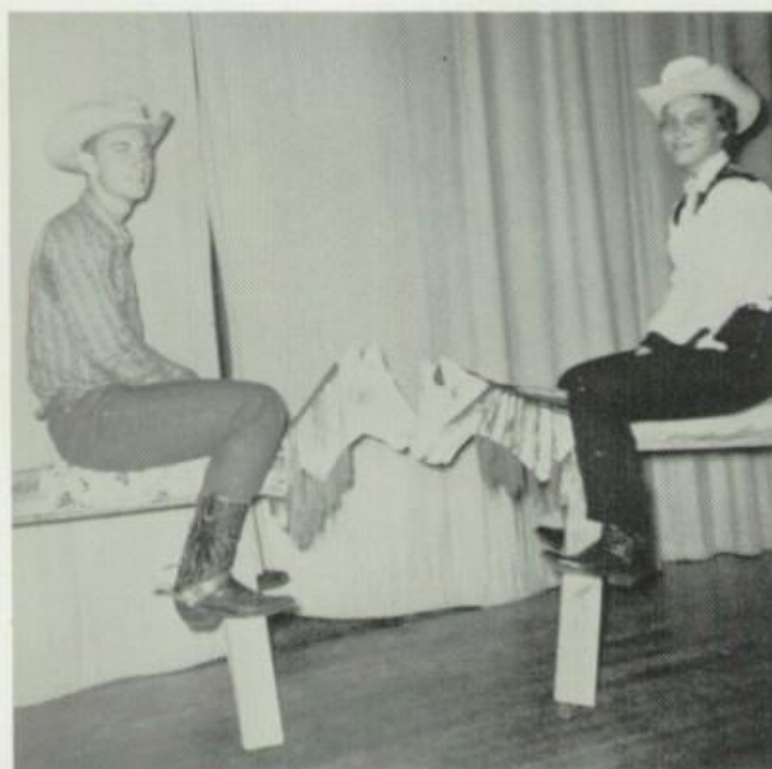

Assemblies

Assemblies are sponsored by the Student Council, and the third Vice-President. This year Laura Weir, is in direct charge. These shots are from the Annual Staff Assembly. Above Hawaiian lasses welcome shipwrecked sailor lads from Georgetown High and provide dancing lessons.

Being discussed with great spirit by Barbara Hindelang and Barbara Smith is the $64,000 question, "Who's going to be Miss G.H.S.?"

"Don't you steal my idea for building the body beautiful!" threatens Jim Kauffman to ambitious Mike Weir.

Kandy Kauffman and David Parsley should receive blue ribbons for being the best horse lovers in any of the adult Western shows.

"I said I'd find a witness," growls Tommy Peaslee. His victim, little Sally McAferty, was too honest to swear that he had bought an annual.

Rub-adub-dub! Who's that in the tub? Why, Donna Bishop and Linda Tombs, rehearsing with Jerry Perry just before the curtain rises.

Assemblies

"Gee, look what I got!" seems to exclaim ye ole annual editor Bishop while business manager Tombs happily accepts her medal from sponsor McClain.

Ann Barton (above) one of the characters in the annual assembly, even carried a bathing suit in her purse - but no annual receipt!

Senior assembly, planned and directed by seniors, was a smashing success. Cast of the Western, "Mr. Paladin," here assume characteristic poses.

Chorus line from senior assembly contained many other pretty Sailorettes.

Little temper fit, staged by Donna Bishop during senior production of "Is This Your Life," practically paralyzes the other participants.

A rag, a bone, and a hank of hair? No, this is Judy Wolf, who generously gave her talent to portray a cave woman for the annual assembly.

Student Elections

Early on the morning of elections, all the candidates rushed to school to hand out their campaign cards.

Then, all the student body assembled in the auditorium to hear each candidate's campaign speech.

Next, everyone hurried to the polls to vote for the candidates of their choice.

There's no doubt who Clyde and Donnie voted for. Wonder if they let Donnie vote at all!!!

Finally, after much suspense it was revealed who won. The 1961-62 Student Council officers are: President, John Atkin; Treasurer, Bill Forest; Secretary, Carolyn Petrosky; First Vice-President, Laura Weir; Second Vice-President, Rebecca Kauffman; Third Vice-President, Susan McCook; and Parliamentarian, Frances Rath.

After a very close decision, due to such excellent candidates, these girls were chosen 1961-62 cheerleaders: Pam Penniman; Linda Scarbrough; Head-Cheerleader, Kandy Kauffman; Co-Head Cheerleader, Laura Weir; Jeannie Behrens; and Brenda Langford.

A proud grin is worn by these new Initiates, who were admitted to the National Thespian Society on Dec. 19. Hindelang, Wolf, Behrens, Williams, Partain, Adams, Queen, Boyd, McDonald, Forrest, McClain (grad), Faulk, Montgomery.

Honestly Bill! You'd think after sleeping through the initiation, you could at least wake up for refreshments.

Taken by surprise are these older members "boning" up on their part in the initiation ceremony.

Ooh, come on, Judy, just a little sip?

Much labor goes into putting a play into production other than the work of the actors. Some faithful members of production crews at work.

A few sign bearers who are intending to advertise the three One Act Plays and incidentally rack up a few points towards Thespian membership.

Les Girvin (Chump), Marsha Smith (honorable mention), Bob Giddings (father) in scene from "Sugar and Spice."

Beverley Gervasi and Bob Giddings rehearse as husband and wife.

Here Les Girvin (Best Actor of the night) and Julia Eanes (Best Actress) are going over a scene on dress rehearsal night.

One Act Play Night

reveals talent not only in the directing by Mrs. Springer, but in the accepting of direction by the casts. Here is the setting for the delightful fantasy, "Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil." Richard Finch, (All Star Cast) is practicing some of the ballads he sang in the play.

Below Tommy Peaslee, Linda Tombs, Barbara Hindelang (honorable mention) and Richard are snapped in the finale of the play.

Judy Wolf and Gary Montgomery disagree in "The Dust of the Road."

At the right Randy Mercer (All Star Cast) and Mike Weir (honorable mention) in a moment of crucial action.

Mike Weir and Bill Forest really enjoy this scene. Mike was named to the All-Star cast at State.

From the top of his book case the bewildered judge, Randy Mercer, reads his mixed-up document to the horror of poor, pretty orphan, Patsy Scott and her lawyer, Richard Finch. Richard was placed on the All-Star cast on all levels of competition.

This party for the cast, crew and director of "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" took place after dress rehearsal the night before District Contest. Tensions were relaxed, but look twice at the labels before jumping to conclusions.

Randy Mercer and Donna Bishop, leading man and lady, were named best actor and actress in the District and Region, and Randy won the title of "Best Actor" in the State. Below are Sandra Pennington and Les Girvin, who did a very clever and efficient bit of acting in their smaller parts.

Soc'n 'Buskin has quite a year. Perhaps this picture is not strictly a drama club picture, but all these active people were going to the speech tournament in Waco, and here Mrs. Springer was giving them last minute cues.

Agnes Miller, in charge of make up, is spraying a wig, while Mike Jones and Edgar Wuthrich build a part of the set for our Prize winning One Act, "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," by Anatole France. Janie Edwards was assistant director. All of us are proud that our play did so well. 2nd place in state is almost the highest.

When you go that high, the decision can as easily be one way as the other. These four people are just as vital a part of our success as the cast and deserve just as much credit (though they didn't get as many pictures). And, as always, 1st place honors go to our wonderful director, Mrs. Frances Springer, who through skill and tremendous effort, produces a winner every time.

The characters, and their costumes, a major part of their success, too!

It is always a happy day around G.H.S. when the Senior Band Members receive their beautiful band jackets. Two of them are not present.

Well! I never thought he could do it.

F. H. A. sponsored a sock hop for ole G. H. S. Could be that these girls are too charmed by the "Versatiles" to think about dancing.

Although this group of girls may have been charmed also, they were not too stupefied to do a bit of jitterbugging.

Spring Style Show

Practicing the step to be used when showing dresses made by girls of Homemaking I.

Let's see, does the right foot go out first, or the left? Everybody do like Patsy's doing, and you'll be just fine.

Caught putting on the last touches before curtain time. Notice the fine fit of the clothing they made.

Everybody's gathered around ready to show off.

How did these creeps get in here? This was way back at initiation time, and these girls evidently didn't know much about how to dress attractively. My, how much they have improved in a few months.

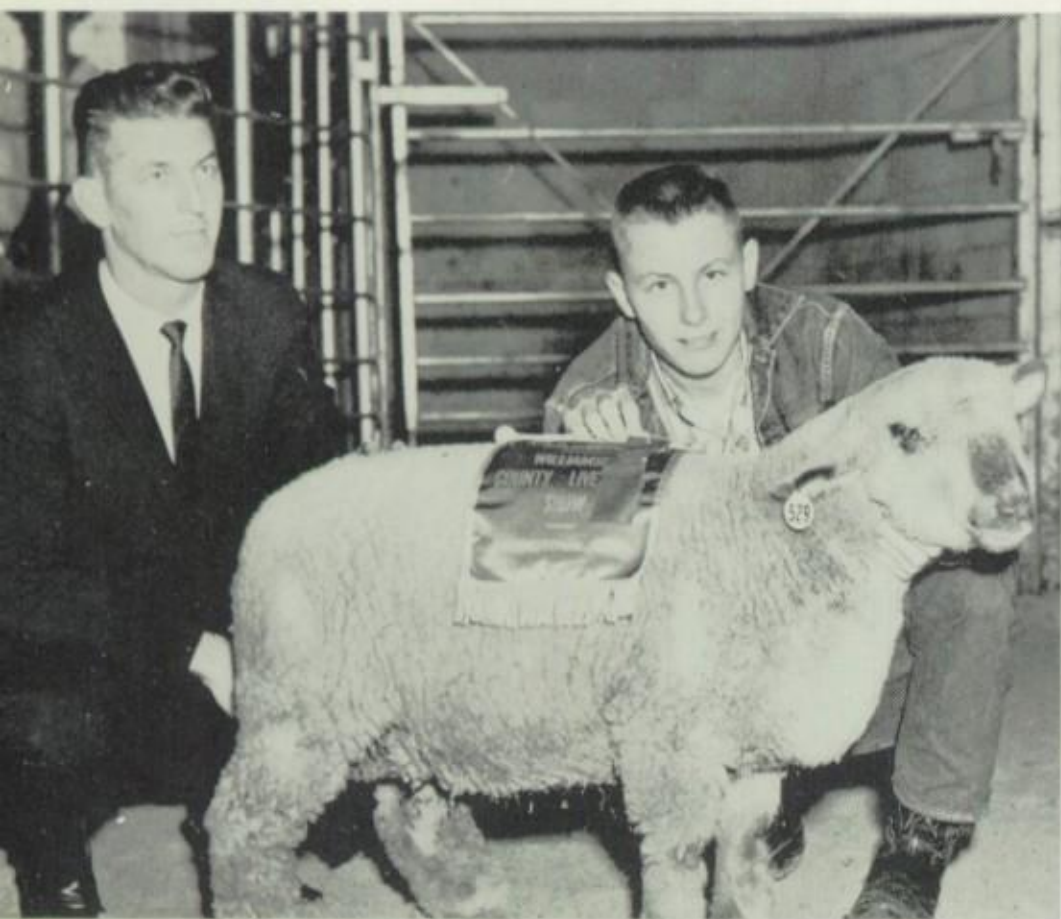

Mr. Cairnes sponsors the well run Future Farmers of America Chapter. Emil Beckman, Secretary; Tommy Etheridge, 3rd Vice-President; Eddie Rodgers, 2nd Vice-President; Ernest Morris, Treasurer; Dennis Chapman, Vice-President; Jimmy Doerfler, President; and Bernard Miller, Reporter.

These tired freshmen, who have worn burlap all day, are hoping to be at ease once more after their initiation ordeal.

Leonard Miller has reason to be proud, for his sheep won honors in the livestock show.

John Shell might not say much, but he's probably thinking plenty. Success with his prize winning sheep gives a boy some pretty good thoughts.

At right, pretty F.F.A. sweetheart, Darlene Lackey, leads the line. Member Maurice Sutton follows.

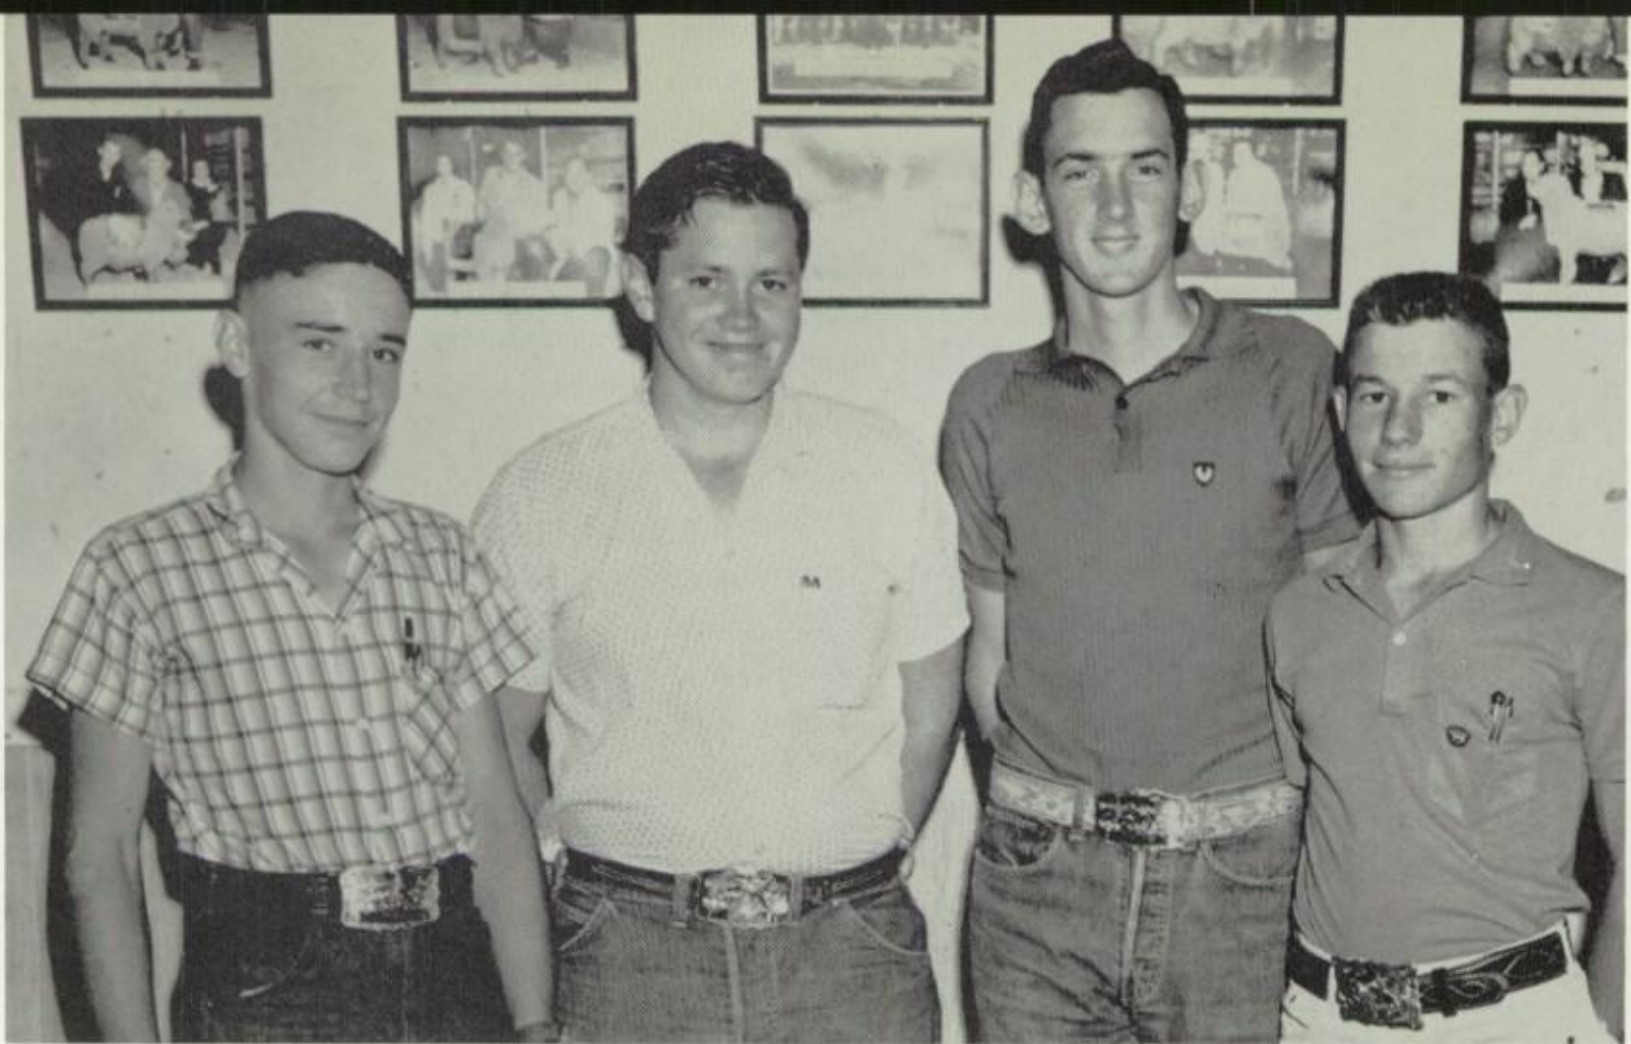

A gay mood should have prevailed at the banquet, though perhaps some of these boys have problems, such as - "How can I get a second helping without anyone's noticing?"

Mr. Lackey has camera ready to snap a picture of - WHO ELSE? Why daughter Darlene, of course!

Lone Star Farmers wearing their silver engraved trophy buckles presented by the local chapter. From left: John Shell, Robert Kleen, Dennis Chapman, and Ernest Morris. These boys will be awarded their State Degrees in July at the F.F.A. convention in Dallas. Of the total membership in the state, the quota for the State Degree is 2%, or one boy out of fifty. Georgetown chapter has had twenty such degrees, ten of them in the past five years.

Representing outstanding achievement in each of the three degree areas are Ray Braun, outstanding Greenhand Award; James Blackwell, four year Achievement Award, DeKalb Award, Farm Bureau Scholarship Award, holder of a State Degree awarded last year; Emil Beckman, Star Chapter Farmer Award; Ernest Morris, Star Lone-Star Farmer candidate Award. Of the four boys applying for State Degree this year, his records show that he was the most qualified candidate.

Eagle Echo

Sponsor, Miss Wilcox: "These people don't have their stories in. What shall we do?"
 Editor, Janie: "Let's cut their fingers with the paper cutter."
 Co-Sponsor, Mrs. Ryan: "Good idea!"

Laura, Business Manager: "Hurry, deadline time draws near." Carolyn, worthy Assistant Editor: "Just one more fingernail and the story will be ready."

Our hero, Janie Edwards, bravely, persistently, and ably carried on through all disasters and published our good and sparkling paper, "The Eagle Echo."

Exchange Editor, Joyce Partain; Head Typist, Agnes Miller; and Sports Editor, Arlene Jacobs; all cuddle a little closer to Amusements Editor, Brian Wicke, under the pretense of reading the "Echo."

Below: Special writers for the "Echo."

Famous scientists of the future at work on a secret formula.

Glenda Love, Pat Robbins and Agnes Miller proudly show Math teacher, Mr. Wynne, their first prize winning exhibit at the fair.

Bettie Barnes knows all about the rats in our school. Above she comments on our frequently held rat races.

Mrs. Medley believes that children learn to do by doing (or being done to). Here she shows Alan the new net and some of its uses.

Dr. Clamann from Brooks Air Force Base in San Antonio visited our school and told our science classes some things about space medicine. He showed us the capsule in which the space mice traveled.

Bill Forest, Treasurer of Unit II, is always collecting money, even from fellow officers. Here President Gary Montgomery is having to mortgage his comb, a process which amuses Vice-President Pam Penniman. Reporter Susan McCook wonders if she should report that Secretary Kathy Jones can't even get postage money from Bill. Scribe Jeanne Ericson will take notes on all this.

PAN AMERICAN STUDENT FORUM is a true service organization, and 1960-61 was a successful year for serving. The usual Spanish supper was the usual success, more gastronomically than financially this year. Unit I repaired toys for Christmas giving; the whole group collected books and records to send to Mexico to aid in teaching the English language. High lights of the year were the editing of the Pan-Am Times for March and the election of Susan McCook to a director's seat in the state organization.

El Presidente, Dane Evans, casting his eyes in the direction of all that delicious Spanish food.

If you have ever wondered why the food at the Spanish supper is so good, here's why. EVERYONE works hard!

A few of the more artistically clad personages at the affair.

Could be the hall of a true Spanish home, but we all know it's just the old hall outside the cafeteria, transformed by a little art, a good bit of work, and these dressed up members of P. A. S. F.

Future Nurses Club

expands its program under the sympathetic guidance of Mrs. Sara Brookshire, County Health Nurse. During the school term the girls met with Mrs. Brookshire a number of times for instruction.

Also, the girls worked once a week for two hours a week at the Georgetown Hospital and Clinic, contributing their services and profiting by the instructions given them.

Their officers: Susie Edwards, President; Mary Jane Perry, Vice-President; Carra Ann Snowden, Secretary; Judy Mahlman, Treasurer.

Not shown: Elnora Gibbs, Carra Snowden and Glenda Carter.

Blue Wings,

the Pep Squad, here vote on a motion. Their president, Darlene Lackey, is counting the votes, while Vice-President Jan Saunders considers her opinion and Secretary-Treasurer Susan McCook good-naturedly joins in with the "ayes."

In neat formation these Blue Wings girls do not even suggest how noisy they are at a football game. But don't let their demure appearance fool you. Their pep and their "cultivated" voices ring out with zest on the sports evenings.

An innovation this year - the Blue Wings girls selected a football hero to be their Beau. Here the lucky boy, Mike Jones, tells president Darlene how handsome he thinks he will be in the new shirt, while admiring pals Munson and Parsley take a little peek.

No wonder he grins! So far as we know, he is unique in the history of Georgetown High - the first Blue Wings Beau.

Even Honor Societies have refreshments.

The senior class of 1961 is a very distinguished class, having twenty four members with an average above 90. Since Honor Society membership is limited by charter, not all the very deserving members of the class belong to the society, but they are nevertheless honored citizens of G. H. S.

Oh, Pam Penniman has a little bug to put in Linda's ear. It will go something like this, "My dear, you look simply ravishing!"

Everyone is not only invited but is supposed to go to this great social event which honors some of the year's best seniors. Here an assortment of very dressed-up participants is gathered just before the grand march which began the celebration party.

The Student Council sponsors the election of Mr. and Miss Georgetown High School from among candidates carefully screened by the faculty. All candidates are expected to embody the highest in morals, manners and achievement. This year the competition was so close we had five couples instead of the usual four from whom to select.

Junior-Senior Banquet is set in a lush Tropical Paradise.

Determined juniors stringing miles of leaves to make a realistic leafy screen.

"Won't these rotating colored lights be beautiful? Our banquet is going to be the MOST!"

The juniors glued flowers and butterflies so cleverly that many duped guests tried to pick the flowers, or to catch the butterflies.

Charming P. A. S. F. waiters and waitresses. Says one, "What if I drop the salad on his head? What'll I do then, huh?"

A bright white light flashed from the depths of the dim Tropical Paradise, revealing this assemblage.

All these waiters and waitresses are eager to serve - Well, maybe Sylvia objects.

Last minute touches are made.

The tropical paradise held many surprises. Here Ann Barton, Bill Watts, Carolyn Petrosky and Bonnie Caddell admire the very lifelike stuffed bird.

Ask Brian Wicke! He'll tell you that it really was a paradise.

About the time you become a senior, suddenly you realize that studying is more important than any kind of party? But that realization didn't keep these girls from indulging in one of the favorite sports of senior girls, a slumber party complete with the traditional dill pickles, if the expressions are any indication.

Class Secretary Jeannie Parker is visited by the other officers, Richard Finch, President; Carra Snowden, Reporter; Mike Weir, Vice-President; and Kay Caskey, Treasurer. With such a group of well-wishers, Jeannie hardly needs all those flowers.

Senior Activities and Honors

Baccalaureate Service is about to begin. Mortarboards finally in place, the seniors are now almost ready to march down the school walk, and under the loving guidance of their sponsors, across the street to the First Methodist Church.

Weir, Jones, Watts, Parsley, Class Day quartette which sang "Twenty Six Miles."

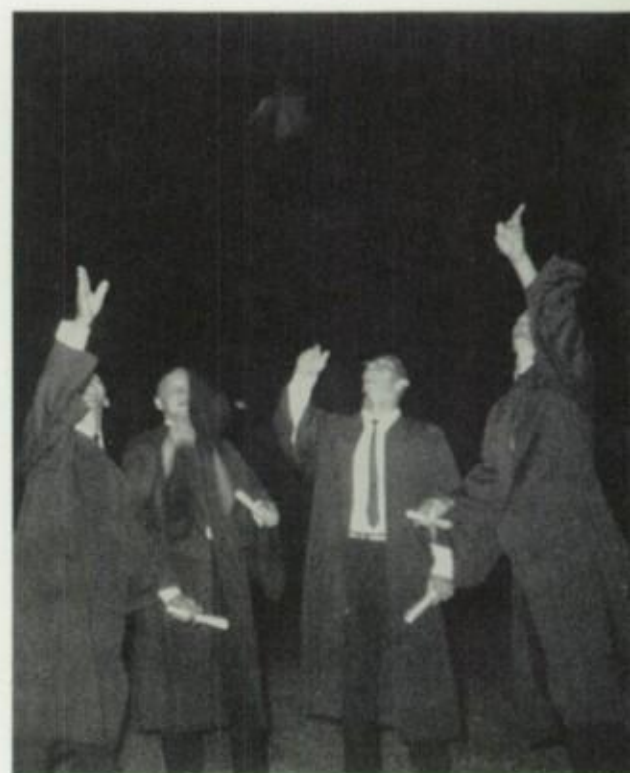

They're real, genuine diplomas.

You'd think to look at them, that they are all surprised to have graduated. Well, anyway, they certainly are pleased.

Hats off!
Hats up!
We've graduated!

Annual Staff

Here are some members of the ANNUAL STAFF for 1960-61, all in a whirl, as usual. Donna Bishop, Editor; barely visible, Glenda Love; Sponsor McClain; Ann Barton, the neat, artistic member; Dennis Melton, art work specialist; Sally McAferty, a whiz at advertising and collecting - learning to do layouts; Robert Bost, advertising and photography; Linda Tombs, Business Manager.

Editor, Donna, senior, has put in three years of service. She's good at absolutely everything - except typing.

Business Manager, Linda, junior, and a born manager, is good at keeping records straight. She has given two years of service, and is learning well.

Glenda Love, senior, and a wonderful find. She was willing to work at anything, and she did!

Evelyn Cagle, freshman, developed into a reliable veteran.

Special thanks to Mrs. Ryan, who worked with the fine group of 6th period advertisers. Among these Cindy Lackey (shown on another page) did exceptional work, and learned layouts as well.

Thanks to all of you! See you again?

Barbara Hindelang
Barbara Smith
Jill Conoley
Bill Watts
Maurice Sutton

Rosamond McClain, sponsor

Gracie Robinson, freshman, had lots of pep and ideas. Hope to put them to work again next year.

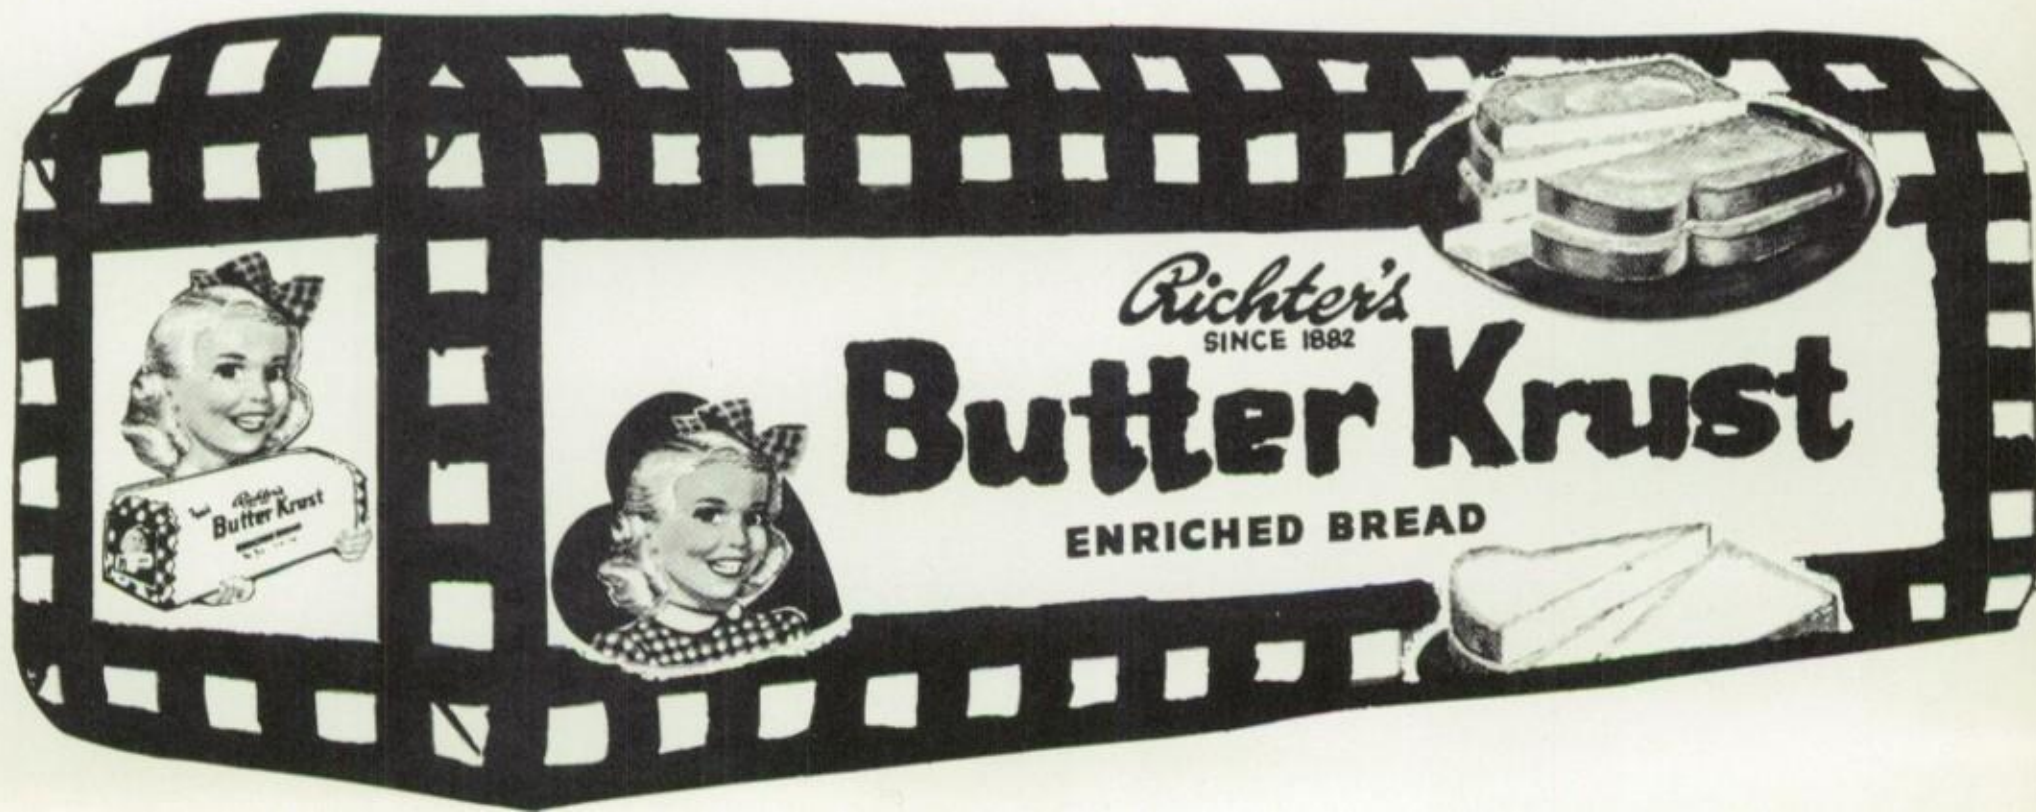

BUTTER KRUST BREAD

Laura Weir, Nicky Teele, Sylvia Thorne and James Blackwell, posed with some oriental table pieces, discuss delicious Butter Krust bread. Nicky shows how to pick up a piece of bread with chop sticks.

Nicky's experience in Japan gives him an edge in knowledge of Japanese customs of eating, but James can always get a good grip on the Butter Krust, with or without chop sticks. "Pass the Butter Krust" would be good table conversation in any language.

Annual staffers have to do double duty in the merry-go-round of publishing an annual. As the Red Queen said in ALICE IN WONDERLAND, "If you want to stay where you are, run as fast as you can. If you want to get somewhere, go twice as fast." We work so hard that by the end of the year we're seeing double, and we know there ought to be at least two of each one of us! Well, goodbye for this year.
